

Result of State Level Online Essay Writing Competition

Date: 04.08.2023

A state level online essay writing competition was organized by the Department of Statistics, B.N. College, Dhubri in collaboration with Institution's Innovation Council, B.N. College, Dhubri on the occasion of National Statistics Day, 2023. Our primary aim was to create awareness on the scopes and uses of statistics among the higher secondary and degree level students. We feel happy to share that, the results reflect the achievement of our target. We received a total of 13 entries from various parts of the state. The students have taken keen interest to write the essays with a relative good research on the topics provided.

The winners of the competition are hereby declared in order of merit:
